Section A. Polling station committees in Bosnia and Herzegovina

Article 10

(Proposals and appointment – Article 2.19 of the BiH Election Law)

(1) Representatives of political subjects that are certified to participate in the elections in the constituency in which the polling station committees are appointed, shall be represented in the polling station committees by applying the lottery draw conducted by the BiH Central Election Commission for positions on the ballot paper.

(2) The BiH Central Election Commission shall submit list of political subjects that are certified to participate in the elections in these constituency to every election commission. The list shall not include coalitions made out of political parties that have candidates and candidates' lists in that constituency and that independently participate in the lottery draw.

(3) A political subject cannot be represented at the same polling committee with more than one representative.

(4) The election commission shall be obliged to invite on time all political subjects referred to paragraph (2) of this Article, certified to participate in the elections in the constituency for which the polling station committee is appointed, to attend the lottery, which shall be conducted by the election commission no later than 60 days prior to the Election Day. The election commission shall be obligated to immediately or no later than two days deliver the results of the lottery to political subject that failed to attend the lottery.

(5) Political subjects submit proposals for members of polling station committees in accordance with the provision of Article 2.19, paragraph (10) of the BiH Election Law and this Rulebook, taking into account that proposed candidates are recorded in the excerpt from the Central Voters' Register for that polling station and that they are physically capable of performing duties at the polling station committee.

(6) Along with the proposal for members of polling station committees, the political subject shall be obligated to submit to the election commission forms –SG-1- statement of the proposed member of the polling station committee/mobile team, signed by the nominated candidates for members of polling station committees and verified with a seal and signature of an authorized person of the political subject. The form SG-1 is the integral part of this Rulebook.

(7) If requested by the election commission, the political subject shall also submit proofs of qualifications and fulfillment of conditions of proposed candidates for members of polling station committees/mobile teams.

(8) If a political subject fails to submit the form referred to in paragraph (6), namely the data referred to in paragraph (7) of this Article, the election commission shall not consider such a proposal for appointment of member of the polling station committee/mobile team.

(9) The election commission shall accede to the procedure of appointing members of the polling station committees after the end of the period for submission of proposals by the political subjects. In the appointment process the election commission shall take into consideration administered sanctions of illegibility to work at polling stations.

(10) During the appointment of polling station committee members referred to in paragraph (9) of this Article, the election commission shall give priority to the candidates who have higher degree of education and experience in administrative affairs.

(11) Deputy members of polling stations shall be appointed from the same political subjects that were defined by the lottery draw to occupy seats for a particular polling station.

(12) Presidents of the polling station committees and their deputies shall be appointed by the election commission amongst members of polling station committee and their deputies, taking into account adequate representation of political subjects and their previous election experience.

(13) Election commissions shall be obligated to post the decision on appointment of polling station committee members on the bulletin board or in some other way for public scrutiny. Apart from the aforementioned, the election commission is obligated to visibly post at the polling station an excerpt on appointment of polling station committees for that particular polling station.

(14) Election commissions shall be obligated to deliver decision on appointment of polling station committees' members to the political subjects. This decision should contain: name and last name of the president and members of the polling station committee, as well as of their deputies, gender, than the name of the political subject whose representatives they are, number and location of the polling station, an explanation on the manner of appointment and advice on legal remedy. The election commissions shall deliver the decision on appointment of the polling station committees' members to the BiH Central Election Commission, if requested.

(15) A complaint can be filed to the municipal election commission on the decision of municipal election commission on appointment of president, members of the polling station committees and their deputies within 24 hours following receipt of the decision on appointing polling station committees.

Article 11

(Procedure of awarding seats on the polling station committees)

(1) The procedure of awarding seats at the polling station committees shall be done in the following manner:

a) Political parties that independently have certified candidates' list, independent candidates and coalitions, which in their composition do not have political parties that independently have certified candidates' list or a candidate for any level of the authority in the basic constituency, shall equally participate in the procedure of awarding seats on the polling station committees and shall be represented in every round of the procedure.

b) Coalitions comprising of political parties that independently have certified candidates' list and political parties that do not have an independent candidate or a candidates' list on the ballot paper in the basic constituency shall participate in the procedure of awarding the seats to an extent to which political parties that do not have an independent candidate on the ballot paper are represented in the coalition.

c) The given criteria shall be applied by having the coalitions, consisting of political parties that do not have independent candidate or candidates' list on the ballot paper, and that are represented in 1/2 proportion excluded in every second round of awarding the seats on the polling station committees, the ones represented in 2/3 proportion are excluded every third round of awarding the seats on the polling station committees and the ones represented in 1/3 proportion are excluded in every second and third round of awarding the seats at the polling station committees, etc.

d) Staffing of the polling station committees shall be done in a manner as to take the first polling station on the polling stations' list and the membership in the polling station committee for that polling station shall be completed by the names of political subjects from the political subjects' list in the order determined by the lottery until the staffing of that polling station committee is completed. Then the second polling station from the list is taken and the membership in that committee shall be completed by the subsequent names of political subjects from the political subjects' list. The procedure shall be repeated for each polling station until all positions in the polling station committees for all polling stations are occupied.

e) If the number of certified political subjects exceeds total number of polling station committees' members in the given municipality, election commission shall fill the positions on the polling station committees according to the lottery sequence until all positions on the polling station committees are occupied. Remaining political subject shall not participate in the distribution of positions on a polling station committee.

f) Parties that are members of coalition and their coalition cannot be awarded seats on the same polling station committee. When such a situation happens, the election commission shall conduct replacement of seats by transferring political party or coalition to next polling station committee, where such transfer is possible, without disturbing above explained principle. In case when replacement is not possible for any reason, political party or coalition lose their seat on the polling station committee, and the election commission shall occupy the vacant seat from the registry of members of previous polling station committees.

Article 12

(Tables and method of completion)

(1) The following tables shall be used in the procedure of awarding seats on the polling station committees referred to in Article 11 of this Rulebook:

a) Table 1 – list of certified political subjects for the basic constituency, consisting of:

- Column 1 – position determined by lottery draw,
- Column 2 – list of certified political subjects for the basic constituency,
- Column 3 – political subject's representation ration in awarding of the seats on the polling station committees.

Positions determined by lottery draw	List of certified political subjects for the basic constituency	Representation ration in awarding of the seats on the PSCs.

Design of table 1 - list of certified political subjects for the basic constituency

b) Table 2 – Overview of final allocation of seats on polling station committees, consisting of:

- Column 1 – code of the polling station
- Column 2 – number of members in the polling station committee,
- Column 3 – allocation of seats on the PSC
- Column 4 – the round of seat allocation

PS	Number of PSC members	Allocation of seats on the polling station committee					Round of seat allocation

Design of table 2 - Overview of final allocation of seats on polling station committees

c) Table 3 – Auxiliary table of political subjects' participation in allocation of seats on the polling station committees, consisting of:

- Column 1 – round of the seat allocation
- Column 2 – participation of political subjects in allocation of seats, with a sub-column of political subjects not participating in the allocation and a sub-column of political subjects that do participate in the allocation.

Round of seat allocation	Participation of political subjects in allocation
	Political subjects not participating in allocation	Political subjects participating in allocation

Design of table 3 - Auxiliary table of political subjects' participation in allocation of seats on the polling station committees

(2) Tables referred to in paragraph (1) of this Article shall be used and completed in the following manner:

a) Table 1

1. The BiH Central Election Commission shall deliver to the election commissions of basic constituencies Table 1 with the order of political subjects as determined by the lottery draw and representation ratio of political subjects in the allocation. The election commission shall start allocation of seats on the polling station committees from the number 1, and shall end it with the last number on the list, thus completing one round of the allocation of seats on the polling station committees. When allocating seats on the polling station committees the election commission shall take into account representation ratio.

b) Table 2

1. Table 2 shall be completed by the election commissions;
2. Column 1 shall hold codes of polling stations in ascending order until codes of all polling stations are entered;
3. Column 2 shall hold number of polling station committee's members for the given polling station;
4. Column 3 shall be completed in the following manner: first polling station from Column 1 is selected and completed with the shortened names of political subjects from the list of certified political subjects (Table 1) until all seats of that polling station committee are allocated. Then, the seats for the next polling station committee are being allocated continuing association from the place in Table 1 at which the allocation of seats on the previous polling station committee is completed. When the list of certified political subjects is exhausted (Table 1), the first round of allocation is completed. The rounds of allocation shall be cyclically repeated until all seats on all polling station committee are allocated, applying the above-mentioned principle;
5. Column 4 shall be completed so that the number of allocation round is associated to the column in which the new allocation round starts.

c) Table 3

1. Used only in case if the list from Table 1 contains political subjects that have smaller representation ratio in the allocation of seats on the polling station committee;
2. Column 1 shall be completed with the total number of allocation rounds, starting with the first. Number of rounds is calculated by taking total number of seats on the polling station committee and dividing it with the total number of political subjects from Table 1, taking into account ratio of their representation by applying the following formula:

$$3. \quad BK = \frac{BP}{(PS - UBK) + \sum_{i=0}^{UBK} \frac{(BPK - PSS)}{BPK}} \quad \text{where}$$

BK – number of allocation rounds,
 BP – number of seats on the PSC,
 PS – all political subjects participating in the allocation,
 UBK – total number of coalitions,
 PSS – political subjects participating independently,
 BPK – number of parties in a coalition.

1. Column 2 is made of two sub-columns as follows: sub-column 1 with political subjects (coalitions) that do not participate in certain allocation rounds, and sub-column 2 with political subjects that participate in certain allocation rounds;
2. Sub-column 2 shall be completed in the following manner: first coalition from Table 1 is entered into appropriate allocation rounds in which it doesn't participate. Other coalitions from the list of Table 1 are entered in the same way, respecting the set order;
3. All political subjects from Table 1 are entered into first line of Sub-column 2 since all political subjects on the list participate in the first allocation round thereat respecting the set order. Remaining lines are completed by political subjects that participate in the allocation for a certain allocation round.

Article 13

(Conducting public procedure of allocating seats on the polling station committees)

- (1) Prior to the beginning of public procedure of allocating seats on the polling station committees the election commission shall shortly inform all present representatives of political subject about the provisions of Articles 10, 11 and 12 of this Rulebook.
- (2) The election commission shall provide all present representatives of political subjects a sample of Table 1 – list of certified political subjects for the basic constituency, as well as a sample of Table 3 – Auxiliary table of political subjects' participation in allocation of seats on the polling station committees if Table 3 is used in the procedure of allocating seats on the polling station committees.
- (3) After every allocation round the election commission shall make a reasonable short break so that the present representatives of political subjects can attest that the allocation was correctly done, or in case that the representatives of political subjects believe that the allocation was not done correctly, to present their objections to the allocation procedure.
- (4) After the procedure of allocating seats on the polling station committees is completed, the election commission shall provide all present representatives of political subjects a sample of Table 2 – overview of final allocation of seats on the polling station committees, as well as a report on how many seats on the polling station committees did the political subjects from the list of certified political subjects for the basic constituency receive. The election commission shall submit the report, as well as the annex - Overview of final allocation of seats on the polling station committees, to the political subjects whose representatives did not attend the procedure of public allocation of seats on the polling station committees.

(5) At the request of the BiH Central Election Commission, the election commission shall submit complete documentation on conduct of public procedure of allocating seats on the polling station committees in that basic constituency.
